Bergen County Prosecutor John Molinelli will discuss law enforcement’s response to immediate needs and emerging situations in our rapidly-changing world. Mr. Molinelli has wide-ranging authority over the law enforcement community in Bergen County. With that authority comes tremendous responsibilities and obligations. His office’s goal is to promote a safe and secure environment for the residents of Bergen County while maintaining the highest law enforcement standards. Prosecutor Molinelli has improved the technical capabilities of the Bergen County Prosecutor’s Office, resulting in an impressive Computer Crimes Units. He is also well known for developing the Community Outreach efforts of the office, in particular—making use of confiscated criminal assets to fund the production of educational films that address Internet safety, the consequences of drunken driving and bullying, as well as active shooter training for educators.

His presentation and ensuing discussion will truly be “ripped from the headlines”.
